

RAILROAD CONSOLIDATION PROPOSED

THROGS VISIT STORES HERE ON FIRST SALE DAY

Big Dollar Day Sales Make An Auspicious Start, with Many People From Out of City

SALES CONTINUE THURS.

Plenty of Offerings Will Be Had For Shoppers Who Failed to Get in First Day

Almost immediately after the fire whistle sounded at 9 o'clock this morning for the opening of the first of the two Dollar Day sale days, stores in the city were visited by hundreds of shoppers, anxious to take advantage of the remarkable bargains offered.

The crowds continued to grow during the morning and the shopping was expected to reach its peak in the afternoon. Out-of-town shoppers were in the majority in the early trading, many coming by automobiles from distances of 50 miles or more. Some of them started home early, because of the long distance they had come, being unable to remain here during the afternoon and get back to their country homes in time to complete their daily evening tasks.

The Dollar Day offerings continue Thursday, and merchants of the city, pleased with the response made by out-of-town people to the "socialability sales" are prepared to offer marked bargains during the entire sale. Although the early shopper was compensated by getting the pick of many bargains there will be others to replace them for out-of-town or local people.

The free movie shows at the Auditorium this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon are part of the entertainment offered visitors by the Town Criers' club. The first show opened at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, and Thursday afternoon the Auditorium will be open from 3:30 o'clock until 7:30 o'clock. Children will be admitted to the second show Thursday without tickets. All the shows are free and tickets may be obtained from merchants participating in the Dollar Day sales.

A comedy orchestra of four, provided by the Town Criers, enlivened the day's events by playing on the street and attracted much attention although the visitors to the city plainly came for business—that of shopping. The Masonic Temple rest room welcomed many out-of-town visitors. Mrs. Irene Charlebois captured a prize by being the first person, out of a crowd, to get in to buy a 12-gauge shotgun sold at 9 A. M. by French and Welch for $1.

Mrs. Charlebois stood in line from 5:30 o'clock this morning.

DAKOTA HERDS WILL BE SHOWN AT DAIRY SHOW

Animals From Five or Six of Best Breeding Establishments of State Going

Fargo, Sept. 28.—Like meeting old friends from home, it will be for the North Dakotans making the tour to the National Dairy show at St. Paul, October 11 to 14, for animals from six or more North Dakota herds will be seen at the big show, either entered in the competition for the blue ribbons or shown in educational exhibits.

Two Jersey breeders, one Holstein breeders and one Guernsey breeder have entered the cream of their best classes in an effort to bring prizes home to North Dakota. In addition, and New Salem Holstein association and William Page and Son of Hamilton, N. D., will send exhibits to the show, but will not enter animals in the competition.

Sam F. Crabbe, Fargo and S. Currie, Park River, have entered animals in the Jersey classes. Major B. S. Person of Minot has entered animals from his Guernsey herd, while J. D. Bacon, Holstein breeder of Grand Forks, has entered animals in the Holstein classes.

A near neighbor of the North Dakota herds also will be represented at the show, by the Schroeder Farms at Moorhead, just across the Red River in Minnesota. Twenty-five animals from this famous herd will be entered in the competition, including the $90,000 bull Sir Pictorje Ormsby, Mercedes 37th 110160, and Colantha Pictorje Lass, who has a record of 1265 pounds of butter in one year, and nearly 3800 pounds in three consecutive years.

The North Dakota tour will leave the state October 11 and return October 14. Sleepers will be parked near the grounds and the tourists may sleep in them. The sleeper charge will be $8.00, instead of $7.00, as 14-section cars must be used, no 16-section cars being available.

TOO HIGH TO ESCAPE.

Port Elizabeth, S. A. Sept.—Belita Thiri, a native girl held on three theft charges, sealed the 20-hour prison wall during the night, but injured her hip so severely she could not move. She is in the prison hospital.

KILLS TWO TO WIN WIFE'S LOVE; SPURNED, HE GOES TO HIS DOOM

By N. E. A. Service.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 28.—Amos Ratliff will go to the death chair here Sept. 30 for committing two successive murders to win a woman.

Strangely, the woman was his wife. The first person he murdered was a man whom he regarded as a rival for his wife's affection.

The second person he murdered was a woman whom he plotted to rob in order to buy presents for his wife. Each time he failed in his object. The wife for whom he shed a man's blood and a woman's blood has lost all affection for him.

"I haven't seen him since he left Eureka Springs," she says. "I haven't written to him."

"And I don't intend to say goodbye to him at the penitentiary."

"All I want is to forget him. I don't feel that I am responsible for his actions."

"He was jealous and violent. He crushed the love he claimed for his own."

"When everything's all over, why, then I can start anew."

Ratliff does not repine over the fate in store for him. If he has regret because he lost the woman whom he loved to the point of mad jealousy, he stifles it.

Amos Ratliff, who will be executed in the Arkansas penitentiary Sept. 30, and the wife for whom he stole and committed two murders.

"I lost," he mutters to himself, "lost—that's all," and then, a half-suppressed sob, "Gone, gone!"

Ratliff is a mountaineer of the Arkansas rough country. He's only 25, three years ago he first violated the law—committed a robbery to get pretty things for his wife. For this he was sent to the penitentiary.

After he was discharged, he returned unexpectedly to his home in Carroll county, and met his wife driving with another man.

Ratliff shot the man on sight. His wife fled from him.

He was out on bail, awaiting trial for this offense, when he got the idea that if he only could get money, he could win his wife back with fine gifts.

So Ratliff set out to rob Miss Lottie Frazier, a spinster, who was reputed to have $10,000 concealed on her premises.

He killed her in the act—and was captured, tried and convicted.

Rev. Steinhauser, a missionary, labors long hours with Ratliff, trying to win him to contrition.

Ratliff at first was obstinate, then despairing.

But now he says: "Tell the boys nothing good can come of evil. The wages of sin are death."

"I want Gora to forgive me, even if she can't love me."

N. D. MAN IS HELD IN KILLING CASE

Fortuna, N. D., Sept. 28.—Victor Johnson of Fortuna, arraigned at Owatonna, Minn., in connection with the killing of D. T. Rounsville, vice-president of the First National bank of Dodge Center, Minn., waived examination and has been bound over to the grand jury which meets at Mantoville Oct. 3.

Anton Johnson, the prisoner's father, recently arrived at Owatonna. He engaged counsel who started proceeding to gain his son's release from custody. This resulted in the lodging of a charge against the son and his consequent arraignment.

ORDER STRIKERS BACK TO WORK

WINE GOES LONG WAY.

London, Sept.—Wine makers of England are meeting increased competition from South African dealers. In spite of the long distance and added import expense, the South Africans have been able to break into the British market.

AUTO LICENSES ISSUED TO DATE IN STATE EXCEED ENTIRE YEAR 1920

More automobile licenses have been issued in North Dakota this year than during the entire year of 1920, according to E. P. Crain, in charge of motor vehicle registration.

There have been 91,600 licenses issued thus far in 1921, while the total number in 1920 was 90,840, according to Mr. Crain. The showing, considered very unusual in view of the fact that motor car sales have fallen below 1920 in many states, is in part explained by the increase in the number of registrations of used cars. There is shown a decrease of about 2,500 in the number of new cars purchased which, however, is a comparatively small decrease, according to Mr. Crain. The total number of sales of new cars will nearly have equalled 1920 by the end of this year, he added.

U. S. SENATE TO SPEED TREATIES WORKING NIGHTS

Will Push Tax Revision Bill to Bank of North Dakota to Call be Considered in Days; Treaties at Night

HURRY TREATY ACTION MILL WORK NOT RESUMED

Senate Leaders Would Dispose of Them Before Disarmament Conference Nov. 11

Washington, Sept. 28.—With a view to expediting action on the peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary and on tax revision legislation, Republican leaders planned today to put through a program calling for only for night sessions of the senate but for the beginning of the day sessions an hour earlier than usual. The tax bill would be considered during the day and the treaties at night.

There is a desire to dispose of the treaties before the beginning of the conference on the limitation of armaments.

Aside from the tax measure and the treaties many other measures of importance are awaiting action before the beginning of the regular session early in December.

OUTLINES VIEWS ON REMEDIES IN FARM PROBLEMS

Representative Anderson Makes Statement After His Investigations

St. Paul, Sept. 28.—Shepley Anderson, of Minnesota, chairman of the congressional committee appointed to investigate agricultural conditions outlined remedies for farmers' difficulties in a statement prepared for the farm bureau federation and received today by the Minnesota federation here.

A program for the future development of agriculture, Mr. Anderson said, "must have for its basis sound, accurate and current agricultural statistics."

"Declaring that the well-being of agriculture during the past thirty years has relatively improved compared with other industries the chairman of the congressional inquiry committee concluded that 'notwithstanding this improvement the rewards of agriculture on the whole have been relatively less both for the capital invested and the labor involved than they have been in other industries.'"

Mr. Anderson outlined successive steps in a constructive agricultural program as follows:

Affirmative recognition of the rights of the farmer to organize his selling power and combine for the purpose of asserting grading, marketing and processing his products.

Expansion of the statistical division of the federal department of agriculture.

Enactment of legislation which will give the farmers just as good credit as anyone and facilities adapted to his turn-over and his ability to pay from the returns of the farm.

A national warehouse system in which the moral, financial and other hazards are fully assumed and under which the farmer can finance the carrying of his own crop if he so desires.

ARBUCKLE WILL BARE DEFENSE

San Francisco, Sept. 28.—The defense in the preliminary hearing of Roscoe C. Arbuckle charged with the murder of Miss Virginia Rappe, announced it was ready to commence its efforts to free the motion picture comedian, when the count resumed late today.

The prosecution completed its presentation of evidence yesterday without having called Mrs. Bambina Maude Delmont, complaining witness.

WHITE MEN TO SPEND WINTER IN FAR NORTH

New York, Sept. 28.—An advance party of Vilhjalmur Stefansson's fifth expedition into the Arctic has arrived at Wrangell Island where it will "dig in" for the winter. Mr. Stefansson announced today on receipt of a telegram from Allen Crawford, of Toronto, leader of the party.

Mr. Stefansson said the party consisted of four white men and four Eskimos who sailed from Nome, Alaska, last August. They will be the first white men to spend an entire winter on the island, he added.

CHECKS TO BE PAID BY BANK, OFFICIALS SAY

Will Push Tax Revision Bill to Bank of North Dakota to Call be Considered in Days; About $180,000 of Registered Checks

HURRY TREATY ACTION MILL WORK NOT RESUMED

Senate Leaders Would Dispose of Them Before Disarmament Conference Nov. 11

The Bank of North Dakota will pay its registered checks, according to statements of bank officials today. Registered checks to the amount of $179,892.84 will be taken care of on call, the announcement added.

The payment of the checks is possible because of the sale of bonds of an eastern syndicate, according to one official. The amount of bonds sold is not made public, but are said to be chiefly of the real estate series.

The effect of the bond sale upon the finances of the state is as follows, according to expressions of various state officials:

Registered checks will be paid and no more registrations will be made, as tax money will be received by the Bank of North Dakota within a month or so.

There is not a sufficient amount of money on hand to permit resumption of work on the Grand Forks mill and elevator, which work was stopped last spring. It has been estimated it would take from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 to complete it and pay outstanding bills.

Certain bills which have been held up by the state auditor will be paid, according to Auditor Pindexter. These include $88,000 due counties on motor vehicle registration, state apportionment of school funds, farm loans and school bonds bought by the board of university and school lands, payment of which has been held up.

Auditor Pindexter said the general fund was getting low and that bills of certain institutions, which do not receive county payments, would have to be held up until probably in November when tax money is certified to the state.

The registered checks, according to A. Johannsen, of the state bank, will bear six per cent interest from date of registration. Some of them date back to June, he said. Many of the registrations were made in the early summer months during the ebullience of tax receipts in the state.

Motor vehicle money amounting to about $88,000 is to be paid to the counties, according to Auditor Pindexter, warrants being mailed out to them.

MAY EXECUTE SOVIET TREATY

Polish officials here stated this afternoon that after a full exchange of notes between the Polish and Russian Soviet governments the negotiations concerning the execution by Russia of the peace treaty signed in Riga had taken a favorable turn toward conclusion.

TAKE VOTE ON RAIL STRIKE

Chicago, Sept. 28.—An immediate strike of the 156,000 railroad trainmen employed on American roads will be ordered if the strike vote, now being counted, favors it, James M. Beck, vice president of the organization, announced last night.

"A strike," said Mr. Beck, "readily has been authorized already by the leaders and you can make it just as strong as you wish. The minute the vote is counted the strike order will be issued—provided the vote favors the strike and there is little chance that it will not. The leaders will not oppose the wishes of the men."

Counting the strike ballots will be completed within a few days.

ARRESTED MAN HITS OFFICER

London, N. D., Sept. 28.—While Charles Kelland, deputy sheriff, was taking John Gagner, a transient accused of making trouble with his employer over wages, to the sheriff's office, Gagner suddenly wheeled and struck him on the mouth, knocking him down. Restainers came to Kelland's assistance and helped overpower Gagner. The latter asserted he thought Kelland's action a bluff. He is being held for a hearing.

TRIES TO BOSS CREW

W. interests among his crew, was discharged. He then tried to organize his crew to rebel against the boss, but was rebuffed when he surrounded his red card and I. W. W. interests. The discharged organizer had stated he would keep track of all men hired to take the places of those who quit.

SPRISONER USES RAZOR TO KILL

Stanley, N. D., Sept. 28.—Joe Popovich, a Serbian, who has been confined in the county jail here on the charge of threatening a fellow worker with a knife, committed suicide by severing the artery in his abdomen, using a razor which had been given him for shaving. Kenmare, N. D., Sept. 28.—Minot businessmen on the first leg of a four day tour through northwestern North Dakota counties traversed the Mouse river valley from Minot to Kenmare and left Tuesday morning with Crosby, Divide county as their destination for the night.

It was through a district where the farm owners are coming more and more to appreciate the advantage of diversifying their operations that the Minot City automobile tourists wended their way. To many of them, notwithstanding the fact that they have been closely in touch with conditions in this area, the trip provided an eye opener as to the tremendous natural resources that are being tapped out here in the western prairies.

NEW JUDGE NAMED

The conference adjourned on Monday until October 5th when it is to receive reports from its sub-committees but conferees said today that the work of shaping the report was being accomplished so rapidly that it was believed most of them would be ready by the end of this week and the conference be able to consider a general emergency program with awaiting recommendations of its more technical committees such as the transportation.

NEW COURSE OF STUDY WILL BE GIVEN TEACHERS

To be Instructed at County Institutes by Special Corps of Instructors

MANY CHANGES ARE MADE

A new course of study for the first eight grades of North Dakota schools will be introduced through county institutes.

The institute corps of instructors will deal particularly with the new course of study, according to Miss Minnie J. Nielson, state superintendent of public instruction.

The new course replaces one drawn for the state schools in 1917. Most of the courses are prescribed by law, and changes which have been made, generally are within the various subdivisions.

A nature study course was prepared by Prof. C. C. Schmidt, of the University of North Dakota, who has made a special study of North Dakota flora and fauna. A committee of professors of the agriculture college drew up a special course of study for this branch of teaching. They included Prof. J. H. Shepherd, specialist in animal husbandry; Prof. Rex Willard, farm economist; Dr. Walster, farm management; and Prof. Cap Miller, soil specialist.

A great deal of North Dakota history is included in the new history course, including Indian stories, myths, and legends prepared by Dr. Melvin F. Gilmore, of the state historical society.

The English course was taken from the Baltimore county, Maryland, course, which Miss Nielson said is recognized as the best in the country and which is used in many states.

A school of instruction will be held here during which the county institute instructors devoted two days' time to the study of the course of study.

PRINCIPALS IN SHOOTING OF HANAN HEIRESS

Mrs. Grace Lawes (left), who committed suicide after shooting Miss Mildred Hanan (right), daughter and heir of the late A. P. Hanan, millionaire shoe manufacturer. The shooting took place in Brooklyn, in the presence of John S. Borland (center), New York exporter, who was seeing Miss Hanan home. Borland told police that he was a friend of both women and added "Mrs. Lawes had no reason to be infatuated with me." In a last letter to her mother, Mrs. Lawes said "Too much high life," in explaining her illness.

Injunction by State's Attorney O. B. Kins, state prohibition agent of Herigstad on complaint of F. L. Wat. In another decision handed down Judge Moellring denied a writ of habeas corpus for Frank Rose who was picked up a few weeks ago and ordered to serve out a suspended sentence. Attorney Dudley L. Nash appeared for Rose in court and sought a writ of habeas corpus on the grounds that the sentence had been satisfied.

GRAIN GROWERS' GROWTH SHOWN

More New Members in Last Week Than in Any Previous Period

Chicago, Sept. 27.—More new members for the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., were obtained last week than in any previous six-day period, according to a summary of organization work issued here today. Field reports, the summary says, indicate a growth of 1542 in the membership, bringing the total to 11,907. Elevator contracts signed total 412, an increase of 32. Only during one previous week have more country shipping points become affiliated with the movement in point of increase. Illinois and Missouri share honors during the period, or 403 each, in the former having obtained 775 new members and in the latter, 403.

This growth "says a statement issued in connection with the summary shows how rapidly the movement will be extended as new states are opened up and solicitors in sections where work is now under way become more familiar with the task of fairly presenting the issues involved. It is more than passingly significant that in all states where solicitation is well started, field workers are bringing in contracts in ever increasing numbers. At present, North Dakota continues first with 4321, Illinois second with 2,513, Nebraska third with 1,478, due to an increase of 330 last week, and Oklahoma fourth with 1,254, Missouri is a close fifth with 1,183.

B. and P. W. Club Will Conduct Open House Friday Eve.

The Business and Professional Women's Club of the city will conduct an open house Friday evening of this week at the club rooms at which time it is hoped that every working girl in the city will make a special effort to attend. Committees have been appointed and are at work canvassing the town to give a personal invitation to every business, professional and every girl who is self-supporting. A program has been arranged and a general good time is assured. The committee in charge wishes to make this a personal invitation to all who cannot be reached by members of the committee and it is hoped that several hundred girls will come in during the evening. This is not a dress-up affair and girls working in the evening are expected to come directly from their work.

The club has reopened its activities after the summer months and is planning a series of entertainments which will keep the club room in constant use. The annual meeting will be held October 4, in the form of a dinner at the Grand Pacific hotel. A club party has also been arranged for Thursday evening of this week, out these must not be confused with the big open house party of Friday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

AT THE MOVIES

AT THE REX.

"Is Life Worth Living?" starring Eugene O'Brien, which is scheduled for a two day engagement at the Rex beginning today, has a little lesson on the side for the man who has not been entirely converted to the idea of advertising.

Mr. O'Brien appears as a struggling young business man, who in a sense at least, is tricked into a circularizing campaign by a little stenographer as badly down on her luck as is the young business man himself. The results of the simple little advertising plan, almost incredibly splendid, brings the big turning point in the story. Because of these results comes success where failure walked before. Because of these results come love, romance and marriage to a life that before had seemed scarcely worth the living.

The photoplay is founded upon the George Westcott story, which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post not many months ago under the title of "The Open Door." Winifred Westcott and Arthur Houseman appear in leading support of the star. Alan Crossland directed the production.

Harold Lloyd is the additional feature.

FAY BAINTER IN "EAST IS WEST" DELIGHTS MANY

Virtually Capacity House Grooms Star in Well Known Comedy at Auditorium

Ming Toy is a very pretty sounding name, especially when sounded with soft, caressing voice such as that with which Fay Bainter captivated virtually a capacity audience at the Auditorium last night. And a Chinese maiden, if Fay Bainter faithfully visualized her characteristics for the audience, is royal little mixx saucy, piquant, with eyes that are an armor of defense and a piercing weapon in one. One might decide the Celestial empire was thus named to typify such a young creature as the little Sing Song girl.

"East is West" is not burdened with a plot which puzzles one greatly but is embellished with a richness of sentiment and deftness which offers the most opportunity for the star to employ her personality and artistry to a degree calculated to send a chronic cough away from the theater, with a firm vow to take his next vacation trip into the land of wide-eyed, black-haired maidens.

Story of the Play. Ming Toy is first shown on the Love Boat on the Yang-tse river in the flowery kingdom where she is to be sold, like other Chinese girls, because she says, her father has 16 daughters and only 14 pigs, and he wants to make it a fifty-fifty home. Billie Benson, son of the American ambassador, was at the time in the audience, but he was not alone in his attraction for the little Sing Song girl who was to be sold, for he had little trouble in persuading Lo Sang Kee, old and honorable merchant of San Francisco, to buy Ming Toy and carry her away to America.

Ming Toy has attempted a Christian mission in China and surreptitiously deserts the worship of the ancient Chinese deity. Ming Toy lives shut up in the San Francisco house of Lo Sang Kee for a year, with only jazz music in the cafe across the street and a power to attract with her "goo-goo eyes" peering from the window as an outlet for her bounding spirit. Had James Potter, endowed with the spirit of uplift and too much money not complained that the honorable Chinese merchant was keeping a girl in his home Ming Toy's sunshine might not have penetrated the fog walls of her home.

But, James Potter protested. Lo Sang Kee, get rid of her, he told to avoid gossip and satisfy the Christian mission and Lo Sang Kee, picking the best he could for Ming Toy is about to deliver her to Charlie Yong, proprietor of four chop suey eateries who admits he is the Beau Brummel of Chinatown with a queer curled on his head and American clothes profusely decorating him. Billie Benson, naturally, arrives in time and with James Potter, spirit Ming Toy, to the home of Billie's father, the American ambassador, where Ming Toy proceeds to not only win the love of the father and mother, the daughter, but also to dominate the butler and enmesh the son in the net of her charms. East and West almost failed to meet when a distressed family objected to Billie Benson's marrying the royal little mixx but when the long men are about to kill Billie to save Ming Toy for Charlie Yong, who isn't satisfied with four chop suey joints but wants four girls as well, he tells the audience, as it had already suspected, that Ming Toy is an American, the stolen daughter of a learned scholar and the end is easy to guess.

Much Rich Scenery. Rich scenery in the prologue to the three-act comedy, a sentimental song, and a full moonlight spreading its beams over the Love Boat helped to put the audience in a receptive frame of mind for most anything that was appealing. Samuel Shipman did not allow his play to drag, however, and he combined devilry and loveliness in the speech of the star.

The play is on its first tour after a long, successful run in New York and now is going to the coast. Miss Bainter brought the original Broadway cast, with one exception, we are informed, but the new Charlie Yong (Ralph Locks), was exceptionally good as was the dignified Lo Sang Kee (Robert Harrison), and the remainder of the cast faithfully played up to the star.

The audience included a great many out-of-town people and again demonstrated that all the good plays brought to the city will be witnessed by large audiences.

URGES STUDY OF BIBLE FOR ALL YOUNG LAWYERS

Dayton, Ohio, Sept. 28.—All candidates for admission to the bar should be compelled to pass examinations on the Bible and the works of Shakespeare, in the opinion of Daniel W. Iddings, former president of the Ohio Bar Association. Mr. Iddings has urged that all bar organizations insist upon passage of such examinations as prerequisite to the taking of the bar examination proper and recommends also that candidates be quizzed on Blackstone's Commentaries.

"The source of all law really is the Bible while Shakespeare pointedly brings out the folkier of the law," declares Mr. Iddings. Blackstone's Commentaries, he says, should be read by every lawyer at some time during his career, for "it must ever remain the greatest exposition of what the Anglo-Saxon law really is."

"Such examinations would compel the reading and study of these great literary masterpieces," Mr. Iddings continues, "and certainly no man can read and understand the Bible without being benefited morally, and the same is true although in a lesser degree of Shakespeare. The highest duty of bar organizations is insistence upon early and universal action on this important subject."

HUNTING, SHOT IN THE HEEL

Valley City, N. D., Sept. 28.—Bryan Clark, son of D. W. Clark, Valley City insurance man, was shot in the leg near the heel when a shotgun was accidentally discharged in the hands of Loren Pierce, also of Valley City, while the two were hunting near Wimbledon with a party from Valley City.

Pierce was loading his gun when the accident occurred. The full charge entered Clark's leg, severing cords and muscles, but missing the bone.

He was given first aid in the field and then rushed to a Valley City hospital. Physicians are hopeful of saving the leg.

MEXICO'S FUTURE

Brandy flows freely in Mexico, which is celebrating the 100th anniversary of its independence from Spain.

The celebration would cause much glee among the ancient Mexican Aztecs who were butchered and enslaved by Cortes and his Spaniards.

The Aztecs had the first real civilization on the American continent. We don't know much about that civilization, for when Cortes and his plunders destroyed it they also burned the Aztec picture-records.

History, in the long run, remembers only the destroyers.

One of the greatest mysteries of antiquity: Where did the Aztec originate?

In Egypt, some scientists think. Maybe the Aztecs crossed the Atlantic on the bridge of land, the Lost Land of Atlantis, which according to fable once connected America with Africa.

Supporting the Egyptian theory are the stone pyramids which Aztecs built near Mexico-City. One of these, erected by sun worshippers, is 216 feet high and 761 by 721 feet at the base.

But on those pyramids are hieroglyphics which Chinese claim resemble their writing. Did the Aztecs come by boat from China? That's possible. There were mighty civilizations in the past. Ours isn't the only one.

Cortes began destroying Mexico in 1519. He did a thorough job—thought he had won Mexico for Spain for all time. He was wrong.

Sept. 15, 1918, the village priest at Dolores rang his church bell and started the first big Mexican revolution. A year and six days later, Mexico City was occupied by rebels. Independence followed.

Since its emancipation, Mexico has had two emperors—and shot them both. Presidents usually leave office feet-first. Trouble south of the Rio Grande is nothing new. "Revolution in Mexico" was a headline in newspapers that told of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

Don't blame the Mexicans for their revolutions. Blame the Spaniards, especially Cortes the Vulture. He put rebellion in the Mexican blood.

In the year 2021, when Mexico celebrates the 200th anniversary of her independence, her vast territory and tremendously rich resources will have made her a greater power than any in Europe.

BEGGARS

Chicago buries "French Sal," famous beggar, and after the funeral finds $100,000 hidden in her attic home.

Wealthy Montana copper operator, visiting Detroit, fell asleep in a chair in front of a hotel. He had on dark glasses. Many mistook him for a blind beggar. He woke up with 40 cents in his hat.

Cities have as many kind-hearted folks as small towns. Metropolitan cold-bloodedness is mostly on the surface. Folks are much the same everywhere. Human nature travels under many disguises, but it never changes.

DYES

American dye manufacturers alarmed at complaints about their products, hold a meeting in New York. It develops that millions of dollars worth of clothing is being thrown back on the manufacturers because the colors don't hold.

One of the dye makers hints that complaints are a new form of German propaganda, which is nonsense.

Dyers blame the dyes. The makers blame the dyers for not using enough dye. Regardless of responsibility, something's clearly wrong. Consumers want no protective tariff to protect inferiority—provided that inferiority is definitely established.

WAIL

Max Straus, ocean steamship man, says an English bank got this letter from a customer:

"For the following reasons I regret being unable to reduce my overdraft. I have been held up, held down, sandbagged, walked on, sat upon, flattened out, and squeezed by our income tax, the super tax, the excess profits tax, war loans, war bonds, war savings certificates, the automobile tax, and by every society and organization that the inventive mind of man can invent to extract what I may or may not have in my possession."
It should be easy to get the nations together on disarmament. They all seem to have the same problems.

WAYWARD

At Big Rapids, Michigan, Justice Dresscher rents a theater and calls a mass meeting of mothers. He will "read the riot act to them."

Dresscher is alarmed at the large number of secret marriages he has been forced to perform lately. He blames mothers for the epidemic of immorality, and in most cases he is right. The tragedy of the neglected child, allowed to run the streets and dance the contortions that originate in Buenos Ayres dives, is what is undermining home life in American cities.

HATREDS

After a seven-years ban on the French language, Berlin permits Chiopera, famous tenor, to sing the star role of "Faust" in French.

War-time hatreds and prejudices are slipping away gradually. If Europe could live in peace 100 years, its countries might get along as amicably as Canada and the United States. That's the normal state of human beings, despite the theory of Crile, famous surgeon, that war is man's natural biological condition.

STARS

Mary Carr, obscure New York housewife, got into the movies. She played with William Welch as the aged couple in Fox's "Over the Hills." Overnight came fame and a salary of $1500 a week with a vaudeville offer of $1800 a week.

Mother roles, on the screen, are so popular with the audiences that they now average better pay than vampires. Has the public a depraved taste? This doesn't look like it.

HOCH

Half of the liquor seized by prohibition agents is confiscated in three states—New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland, says Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair.

Are those states the wettest? Not necessarily. Most of the hooch, when seized, is on its way west. But it does reveal the source of firewater. A little more information like that, and Uncle Sam will know how to shut off the supply entirely.

CRIMINAL

Tomasso de Angelis, Italy's greatest criminal, is dead. A ring-leader of the Camorra, he had a longer police record than any other Italian.

Despite his great wealth from blackmail, Tomasso died a hermit, without friends, penniless, living in a cave in a cemetery.

Detectives say no great criminal ever died rich. We pay penalties for most of our sins, right here on earth. Emerson, greatest American philosopher, was right about the law of compensation.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that the reader may have before him the important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

DARN SUCH DANCING

It is beginning to be suspected that some modern dancing favored by the young people lacks a bit of the aloofness and restraint of the minuet. It might not need an organic idea of pep and might fail to interest a satyr who had learned to toddle at the festival of Dionysus, but it certainly would make the old fashion round dancers boggle their eyes.

It has been reported by such as frequent dancers where joy is unconfined that among other articles of apparel which modern daughters park in the cloak room are their stays, if they chance to have them on, and that a young person who kept them on could be found sitting by the wall in every dance after the first.

It is the privilege of each generation to be horrified by the manners of the succeeding. Rome probably was falling every twenty years of its history. It is also the privilege of each generation to tell the preceding to sit on a tack. The one has its opinions and the other does as it likes.

Some dance masters find that decorum pays. Some dancers find that it doesn't. What we fear is that the wayward young folks will bring down what is left of old ideas of life and individual regulation of conduct. If they dance the roof down on us they ought to be choked.

The assumption used to be, even legally, that a person not criminally inclined could be trusted to behave himself. The assumption is now that he will not do so unless he has the assistance of two policemen, a deputy sheriff, an internal revenue inspector, a prohibition enforcement officer and several field workers from one or more reform organizations.

The citizen thus protected against his instincts, his inclinations and his weak will can be let out if he promises to be home by 6:30. Even with these restrictions upon his tendency to evil it is thought that the moral sense of the community is lacking a bit with regard to him and that he ought to have other hobbies, checks and guide lines attached to make him statutorily a pure and unerring creature.

If the agencies which make for good get madened by the courses and customs of the young people on the dance floor, they will turn on the now dispirited citizen and tie him up so that all he can do is wiggle his fingers and roll his eyes.

If that's what the new generation does with its dancing, we'll wish there never had been a new generation.—Chicago Tribune.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

J. EDGAR BARRYMORE THE UNDER TAKER HAS PUT IN A COMPLETE LINE OF BABY CARRIAGES

THE RUN (ON) RAIN-IN-THE-FACE (By Frank Fiske, Author of The Taming of the Sioux.)

There has been a lot of discussion in The Literary Digest, of late, about the Sioux chief Rain-in-the-Face. The recent book by Col. G. O. Shields has aroused the students of Indian history all over the country which constrains me to add a word like unto a voice in the wilderness.

"Old Rain" considered himself a great friend of mine. When he would come in from his log cabin home, about seventy miles west of Fort Yates, N. D., I often induced him to pose before my camera. Three dollars was the usual consideration in him hand paid. He was easy money for him and he realized it. When I had secured about all the negatives I wanted he began striking me for the loan of a couple of dollars. Of course I let him have them—who wouldn't when you considered what he was noted for? He always promised to repay me but, somehow, the matter continually slipped his mind. Thus his friendship for me grew steadily, and if the old fellow hadn't gone to the Happy Hunting Grounds, the friendship might have burst through excessive indulgence.

Col. Shields says that Rain-in-the-Face got into an altercation with four white men, at Standing Rock, and killed two of them in self-defense. Then he took "flight into the desert," without the aid of an aeroplane, for it was in December 1873 or 1874. There were two feet of snow on the ground and the temperature ranged from 20 to 40 degrees below zero, and the wind was blowing a gale. The next morning several squads of Indian police and two detachments of cavalry were sent after him. He was found hiding in a cleft of rock on the bank of a creek with a bunch of sage brush pulled in front of him. He was bound and taken to the agency and thrown into jail. The jail consisted of a rude log cabin, and during the night two Sioux braves snatched up to the corner of the building while the guard was sleeping, walking away and they placed one end of a long pole under it and resting the pole on a shorter piece to gain leverage. Having placed these appliances in the correct position the braves crawled out on the pole until their combined weight raised the corner of the cabin enough to allow the prisoner to get out. Wasn't that clever? Then Rain ran three hundred miles in three days with nothing to eat but the bark of young trees he snatched as he raced through an occasional coulee. He went north to the Woody Mountains in Canada where he was met by his friends, the Indians. Later he decided to avenge revenge on Custer, and he returned to the United States in order to gain his object at the Battle of the Little Big Horn.

Rain-in-the-Face told Col. Shields all this he certainly maintained his reputation as a monumental liar. It is perfectly safe to call him that now since he is dead and there are no close relatives about to defend his honor. However, we all know, that Rain-in-the-Face got into mishaps by taking the credit of the killing of Dr. Hoxzinger and Mr. Ballran, who were with the Stanley expedition out in the Yellowstone river country during the summer of 1870. Instead of his flight into the desert, he roamed the prairies with his people until winter came when he took up his abode in a large camp south of Fort Yates. And he was captured by Captain Tom Custer while doing a little trading in the store at Standing Rock. He was "thrown into jail" and kept under guard that night.

One cannot refer to the history of three times without mentioning Mrs. Galpin or her daughters, Alma and Louise. They were at Standing Rock on the cold winter's day that Rain-in-the-Face was arrested. Louise, who later became Mrs. Van Sten, told me that they kept the store during the night. At daylight a great walling of Indian women aroused the camp and agency. It was the many sisters, or female relatives of the prisoner giving vent to their feelings on account of his incarceration. Captain Custer had orders from General Custer to bring Rain-in-the-Face to Fort Lincoln, and Mrs. Galpin and her daughters sat on the step of their log cabin and watched the soldiers ride by with the warrior between them.

ADVENTURES OF ALASKA TOLD

The Tribune acknowledges the receipt of the book "The Frozen Barrier," written by Helmore Browne and published by G. P. Putnam's Sons. It is a story of the hazardous adventures of George Draper and Fred Morgan in the heart of Alaska. It is a graphic and thrilling account of the Northwest and in the writing Helmore Browne has made the incidents most realistic.

Another book, "The Star of Gold and Other Poems," by Eva Ashley Parslow, dean of Women of Jamestown College, has been received at the Tribune office. This book contains lyrics touching nearly every phase of life but whatever the theme, the portrayal is intellectual as well as poetic. It is published by the Stratford company of Boston, Mass.

With the Movies

AT BISMARCK.
The Royal North West Mounted Police which patrols the vast open stretches of the Western Provinces of the Dominion of Canada has no counterpart for the vastness of the territory which it polices nor for its efficiency as a hunter down of crime, in the world. Since the days when Jack London exhausted the South Sea Islands as a field for romantic thrillers, the novelists of this country and Canada have turned to the North West and among all of the stories which have that section of the world for a background the Royal Mounted figures to a greater or lesser degree.

The latest story to have its inspiration from this body is "The Raiders," written by Bertram M. Sinclair and it will be seen in pictured form at the Bismarck theater tonight and tomorrow night.

Franklyn Farnum who has been a welcome periodical visitor in the local movie theaters has forsaken his cowboy trappings and dons the uniform of a private of the Canadian Constabulary. The picture is full of the North West spirit of courage and romance.

ance and has been produced upon a lavish scale.

The picture has been accorded very flattering receptions in New York and elsewhere and it is expected that it will duplicate its success here.

THE ELTINGE.

A representative group of some of the best known figures in the film world will be seen as mere "extras" in Wallace Reid's new picture, "Too Much Speed," which will be shown at the Eltinge theater today and tomorrow.

The notables include Cecil B. DeMille, Jess L. Lasky, Sid Grauman, a prominent Los Angeles exhibitor, Neil McCarthy, counsel for Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, Betty Compson, recently signed to star in Paramount Pictures, Gloria Swanson, Paramount star, Herbert Somborn, her husband and a well known western musician, and several members of Mr. DeMille's family.

The occasion was the day of the big automobile speed match on the new Beverly Speedway, near Los Angeles, held early in 1921, those named occupied a box in the grandstand and were intently watching the races.

Frank Urson, who directed the picture, had taken Wallace Reid and others of his company out to get some of the race scenes for the picture, in which the star plays the role of a speed pilot. When he saw the box and its inmates he planted his camera as close as possible and without revealing his purpose, proceeded to get several close-up shots, all of which were incorporated in the picture.

TORTURES NURSE, PLEADS AMNESIA

Eighteen-Year-Old Boy Is Arrested as He Tries to Escape Over Back Fence.

New York—Pleading that he does not remember anything since about eight o'clock Saturday night, Frank Conway, an eighteen-year-old student at Erasmus High school in Brooklyn, on Sunday was held without bail following a spectacular arrest on a charge of torturing Miss Ethel Stewart, twenty years old, a nurse, for more than an hour in her room to force her to tell the hiding place of jewels and money which he insisted she possessed.

The nurse, a student at the Long Island College hospital, lives on the third floor of the nurses' home in an exclusive Columbia Heights section of Brooklyn. She was found, gagged and beaten by the young man. He struck her on the head with the butt of a revolver and fled through a window by which he had entered, and climbed down a fire escape.

Miss Stewart's screams attracted a score of nurses as well as police attached to St. Charles Roman Catholic church, in the rear of the nurses' home. A policeman captured Conway as he leaped over back fences.

At four o'clock Sunday morning Miss Stewart was awakened by the sound of some one jumbling at the catch of her window which opens on an iron fire escape leading to the rear yard. Frightened, she lay still as the man entered. He switched on the electric lights and, holding a revolver within a few inches of her face, said: "If you make a sound I will shoot your head off. I want the $600 and your diamonds. I know you have them here."

Shaking with fright, the girl whispered that all the money she had was $10 and that she had no jewels.

"You are a liar!" she says the man whispered.

Dragging the pillow from beneath her head he ripped its case into strips, with which he bound Miss Stewart's hands and feet. He then gagged her with a towel and started to search for the money. Time and time again he returned to the bed, the police say, slipped the girl's face and demanded she tell him where her valuables were hidden.

"I know you have $600 and jewels worth $1,200 more. I'll kill you if you don't give up," he is alleged to have said.

After an hour of intermittent torture the burglar, who removed the gag each time he demanded the money, losing patience, snatched the girl on the head with the butt of the revolver. As she sank back on the bed Miss Stewart screamed again and again.

15,000 DIE IN YEAR IN FIRES; 20,000 INJURED

Huge Loss to Nation by Carelessness is Pointed Out at Underwriters Meeting

LOSS IS OVER $500,000,000

Boston, Sept. 28.—Last year nearly 15,000 persons were burned to death with approximately 20,000 injured, a large percentage of whom were injured permanently and made a public charge on our citizenship. T. Alfred Fleming, of the National Board of Fire Underwriters of New York city, told the automotive section of the National Safety Council congress here today.

"A classification of these losses shows that over 75 per cent are women and children of school age and under. This classification shows that the home and the school have been neglected in our great scheme of safety education. It also shows the effectiveness of the general campaign of safety in the shop and factory."

"Coincident with this loss of life, the destruction of property during 1932 as quoted by Mr. W. E. Mallalieu, general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, almost doubled that of any previous year of our history, reaching an enormous total of over $500,000,000—which does not include the stupendous losses in forestry, to the extent of which is due to carelessness of citizens. This waste of our national wealth of nearly one and one-half millions a day is paid for by every citizen of the nation. It is generally considered that these losses are borne largely by insurance companies which is true but insurance companies are only collecting and distributing agencies and of necessity are compelled to require increased rates to cover increased losses. Every product purchased for the home or for the factory has in its cost to the consumer an amount to cover the insurance and overhead cost.

It is the largest and most unnecessary leakage of the country's resources, and is almost entirely avoidable and unnecessary.

Huge Forest Fire Loss

"Paul C. Redington of the Forestry Division of the United States, in an address in California recently stated that of 2,344 forest fires caused by campers last year, 75 per cent or over 1,750 were due to smokers' carelessness. It would seem that the only way to obviate these tremendous losses of life and property would be to conduct the longest possible continuous campaign of education for their elimination."

"The sections where safety has been most neglected are in the home and school. It is an appalling fact that not one business man out of every 250 has ever applied the knowledge of safety he has used in his factory to his home. He has forgotten to call a 'cabinet meeting' of the members of his family and servants to instruct them how to turn in an alarm, how to extinguish a fire in its incipiency, how to avoid danger from articles used in the home and how to use the extinguisher he has installed. In other words, financial value in production has been put more and more over safety than the priceless jewels of human life in the home, and at the nation is only a large or as strong as its homes."

"Similar negligence is shown in the care, maintenance and construction of our schools. A very small percentage of the members of our present boards of education have assumed more than the financial burden of school activities while they are equally responsible for the moral and physical safety of each child under their care. There is a great disregard of properly established rules in the construction of new buildings and the remodeling of old structures. It has been found by experts that over 90 per cent of the school buildings are more unsafe either structurally or in maintenance than the Collinwood school when it burned causing the death of 173 children and three teachers over five schools burned in the United States for each day of the year. Tribes due to carelessness or through thoughtlessness are the causes of the largest percentage of fire casualties and conflagrations."

TELEPHONE GIRL SAVES BANK CASH FROM 5 BANDITS

Eagle, Wis., Sept. 28.—The courage and coolness in emergency of a girl alone in the second story exchange of the telephone company here early today thwarted five safe-crackers in an attempt to rob the vault and safety box of the Bank of Eagle.

By reason of the girl's action $50,000 of the bank's funds of which between $8,000 and $9,000 was in currency were saved.

Seventy townsmen armed with shotguns, rifles, revolvers and pistols were routed out of bed by the quick thinking of the girl who gave the alarm by telephone and laid siege to the bank where the robbers were at work.

The robbers returning the fire of the townsmen posse shot their way through the front door of the bank and ran half a mile to their automobile, engaged with a second posse just coming up and escaped.

PIONEER PASSES AWAY IN CITY

George D. Allen Served as Soldier in Dakota Territory

George D. Allen, a pioneer of the west and soldier in Dakota Territory in the early days, passed away in a local hospital at 2 o'clock this morning, after an illness of several weeks of heart disease. Mr. Allen came to Bismarck five weeks ago from Sibley, Ia., to make his home with his stepson, E. J. Gobel, and was taken sick a few days after his arrival.

Mr. Allen was born in Auburn, N. Y., in 1835. Coming west he engaged in ranching in Nebraska and enlisted in the United States Army in 1872 for five years when there was call for soldiers to aid in putting down Indian uprisings. He was discharged at Fort Sully his discharge papers showing an excellent record. Mr. Allen joined the Odd Fellows lodge in 1876 and had been a member since that time, being past noble grand of the lodge of F. L. Sully.

For the last sixteen years he had been a rural mail carrier at Sibley, Iowa, taking up this work after retiring from farming, and had recently been placed on the pension list for faithful service. He was a member of the Congregational church for 20 years.

Mr. Allen is survived by his widow, two sons, J. O. Allen, of East St. Louis, Ill., and C. L. Allen of Livingston, Mo., a daughter, Mrs. Guy Roberts of Springfield, S. D., and his stepson, Mr. Gobel. His sons had been at his bedside for several days.

Funeral services will be held at the residence of Mr. Gobel, 423 Fourth street, Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. L. R. Johnson, of the First Baptist church officiating.

$35,000 LOSS BY FIRE AT MINOT

Minot, N. D., Sept. 28.—Fire on Saturday night destroyed the frame building here owned by the Minot Auto company, in which were stored 12 new tractors, 15 used autos and 35 drums of oil, causing a damage estimated at from $30,000 to $35,000. The interior of the building was a mass of flames when the fire was discovered. About 4,000 people watched the firemen fight the flames and snatch 40 of the 55 drums of oil from the flames.

The autos are a total loss. They varied considerably in value. It is believed parts of the tractors can be salvaged. They were valued at between $1,500 and $1,800 each. The building, valued at about $6,000, was insured for $4,000.

Some credence is given the theory that the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion.

FORKS MURDER STILL UNSOLVED

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 28.—Little light has been shed on the murder of Mrs. Bloom Seliger here, through the examination of Robert Stranger, arrested at Devils Lake when his interest in getting papers giving accounts of the Grand Forks murder, aroused suspicion. Examined here, he claimed he had not been in Grand Forks since Sept. 10. Efforts to check up his movements to determine whether or not he was in Grand Forks on the night of Sept. 10, when the murder was committed, have so far proved fruitless.

Authorities say they are pushing the search vigorously and following up all possible avenues of information available that may throw further light on the murder.

BISMARCK SEEKS DELEGATES AID AT LEGION MEET

Delegate Buttonholes Delegates Seeking Promise of Headquarters Fight Support

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 28.—The American Legion state convention, with about 800 Legionnaires present, got under way today with the submission by Commander Landers and Adjutant Williams of reports for the last year.

Discussion of candidates engrossed the attention of the Legionnaires in and outside of the convention hall. P. G. Harrington, of Bismarck, became an active candidate for the position of state adjutant against Jack Williams, incumbent, who seeks re-election. The Bismarck delegation was button-holing delegates in favor of their request that the state headquarters be moved from Fargo to Bismarck.

Major A. B. Welch, of Mandan, on his arrival here, said that he would ask the state convention to endorse former Judge J. M. Hanley for the position of national commander.

F. R. Landers, state commander, is to be opposed by M. H. Sprague, of Graton, and Mack Traynor, of Devils Lake, for the position of national committeeman.

Philip R. Bangs, of Grand Forks, and Charles Harmon of Jamestown, are the announced candidates for state commander.

Mandan and Devils Lake are seeking the next convention.

Tonight's feature will be a parade, with bands and floats in line.

At a meeting last evening the results of the drive were checked up and the following was the result of the drive. A total of $2,559.24 was received by the treasurer, made up as follows: Cash and checks $1,250.86 Card promises 1,402.38 Grand total $2,653.24

TO ELECT NEW COMMISSIONER.

City Attorney L. H. Connolly today declared that the city commission has not the power to appoint a commissioner to fill the unexpired term of the late N. E. Luther and that a special election must be held to fill the vacancy for the remaining two years of the term.

It is expected that the city commission will act on their regular meeting on Wednesday evening relative to calling the meeting.

Talk of various candidates has been current. Nels H. Romer, proprietor of the Mandan hotel, and prominently identified with every movement for the betterment of the city for many years, is at least one whose friends are urging him to become a candidate.

ACCEPTS NEW POSITION.

Roy E. Smith, who has been head mechanic at the Western Auto Co., since the concern moved into the new location, left this morning for Laguna, Laguna, Philippine Islands, where he has accepted the position as head mechanic over the tractor and automobile division of the Calamba Sugar estate.

The concern is one of the largest sugar estates in the world, turning out 300 tons of sugar daily during the grinding seasons.

Mr. Smith will sail on October 3rd from San Francisco and will stop for a few days at Honolulu before leaving for the Islands.

L. T. Hansen will assume the position as foreman in the repair shop of the local garage.

APPLE TREE IN BLOSSOM.

Mrs. J. J. Morrow, Second avenue N. E., has a crab apple tree very much in bloom with the buds falling and some of the second crop of fruit formed and growing.

A splendid crop of crab apples was picked from this tree a few weeks ago and now it has blossomed forth again as though anxious to outdo itself this dry year.

One farmer not far from this city is reported to have cut his fourth crop of alfalfa from one field this year, but two crops of crab apples in one year has that story topped.

Sunday evening on the road near the west ferry landing the Hudson coupe, driven by O. M. Larson, and a Ford, driven by Adolph Seaman of south of the city collided when they were returning

Tanlac Accomplishes Remarkable Results In Geo. H. Nickels Case

Prominent Wisconsin Man Says

Tanlac Promptly Relieved Him of Bad Case of Stomach Trouble of Six Months' Standing—Gains 27 Pounds and Feels Fine As A Fiddle.

It is an unquestionable fact that Tanlac is now being more widely endorsed by well known men and women than any other medicine in the American market. One of the latest to testify is George H. Nickels, well known lecturer residing at 227 Wells St., Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

"Tanlac has not only completely restored my health, but I have actually gained 27 pounds in weight," said Mr. Nickels in referring to the remarkable benefits he had derived from the medicine.

"For something over six months, my stomach was very badly disordered. I suffered terribly from indigestion and dyspepsia. At times I would be in great distress and I would invariably experience an uncomfortable bloating feeling for hours after eating. I had no appetite scarcely and the little I ate would often make me deathly sick. My head ached until I felt like it would bust and I was so nervous I trembled like a leaf. When I got up in the mornings, I was so weak and dizzy, I couldn't trust myself to walk around and I just hid all over."

"Tanlac has brought about a wonderful change in my condition for I am now enjoying the very best of health. My appetite is splendid. I relish my meals. Everything agrees with me perfectly. The nervousness, headache and dizzy spells are all gone and I never have an ache or pain. I am only too glad to tell others about the wonderful good Tanlac has done. It has no equal."

"Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere."

Why Weak Nerves and Thin Watery Blood

CAUSE SUCH GREAT PHYSICAL WEAKNESS AND MAKE ONE AN EASY PREY TO A MULTITUDE OF DANGEROUS DISEASES.

Every human being is born with a certain quantity of "nerve force"—some with more than others.

Your body normally makes or generates nerve force only about so fast, and if through overwork, worry, constant nervous strain or other excesses, you use up your nerve force faster than your body makes new nerve force—then your nerve power becomes weakened, and as a consequence your blood may become thin, pale, and watery, and you become feeble, cross, and irritable. In such a state you may not only suffer terrible tortures from a multitude of alarming symptoms, but in your greatly weakened condition you are an easy prey for the multitude of dangerous germs with which you must come in almost daily contact, and you may therefore easily contract some dangerous or even fatal disease.

In such cases you should immediately take something to revitalize your worn-out, exhausted nerves and create new nerve force. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron. This valuable product quickly aids in reviving the blood and thereby helps it to furnish an additional supply of nerve force with which to revitalize and regenerate the brain and nerve cells. It also contains a product which represents the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form most nearly allied to that in the nerve and brain cells of man. Nuxated Iron may therefore be said to be both a blood and a nerve food as it furnishes strength-giving cranial iron to the blood and the most important element of the neuro-vital fluid to the nerves. The effect of Nuxated Iron in cases of exhausted nerve force and impoverished blood is so remarkable and surprising that it often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, "run-down" men and women in two weeks' time. In fact, the manufacturers guarantee satisfactory results in every purchase or they will refund your money. Nuxated Iron is for sale by all druggists.

TO OUR PATRONS---

More than a year ago we explained to you through newspaper advertisements and statements with your monthly bills our urgent need for additional revenue in order that we might be able to operate our property in North Dakota without losing money. At that time we published the schedule of rates proposed for this exchange, subject to the approval of the Railroad Commission before whom we had an application pending for changes in rates.

The Board of Railroad Commissioners denied our application for an adjustment of rates, although admitting our need for increased revenue and we were compelled to appeal to Court for relief. The Federal Court found that under the existing rates our property was being confiscated in violation of the Constitution of the United States and authorized the establishment of new schedules of rates.

The new rate is shown on each subscriber's bill for the month of October. The higher cost of conducting our business in North Dakota which necessitated this adjustment of rates, has been caused not only by the advance in the cost of materials and supplies during the last few years, but also by higher taxes and increased compensation to our employees.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank you for your patronage and to assure you that only the most urgent financial necessity compelled us to ask for rates that would require an increase in the amount you pay for telephone service.
